

JOB PROSPECTS UP FOR 1950 CROP OF HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

Dim Predictions Made Early This Year Brightening, Officials Report

SOME POOR AREAS

Estimate 20,000 Will Enroll In Colleges This Fall, 20% of Total

By Al Spivak

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, June 20—(INS)—

The 1950 crop of approximately 100,000 Pennsylvania high school graduates today was assured that job prospects are brighter than appeared early in the year.

"Employment opportunities for high school graduates have improved materially from the rather dismal forecasts in the early months of 1950," reported State Employment Service Director Harry Hoyle.

"In distressed employment areas of the State, however, all opportunities are limited," he added. "And even in other areas graduates have the perennial problem of inexperience while competing with older workers who've been on the job."

Colleges probably will enroll more Pennsylvania high school graduates this year than last, according to Dr. Henry Klonower, director of teacher education and certification of the State Department of Public Instruction.

"We won't know until September when we get actual enrollments," says Klonower. "The economic situation at that time will be a major factor."

"If I were to hazard a guess, I would say that a larger percentage of high school graduates will go to college this year than in 1949," he adds. "I base that on the apparent economic condition of their parents at the present time. During the last four years an average of about 15 per cent have entered colleges."

State Employment Service statisticians estimate that the number of graduates this year will be about 100,000.

Two Cars Damaged in A Crash at Intersection

FEASTERVILLE, June 20—Damage totalling $125 was caused to two coupes when they crashed at the intersection of Routes 532 and 132, near here, at 12:15 yesterday afternoon.

According to state police of Langhorne barracks, a car driven by Gertrude Gaud, 45, of Christy avenue, Croydon, was halted at a "stop" sign on Route 132, then proceeded across 532 into the path of a car operated by Charles S. Marple, of E. Willow Grove avenue, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Barbara Marple, 23, was riding in the car with Charles Marple, but none of the occupants of either car were injured.

Officer Matroka investigated.

PERSIAN PUZZLE

Two big planes came down within a short distance of each other within two days. Both crashed in the same inexplicable way. Total loss of life for the pair accidents: 46 men, women and children. Officials of the French national air line, Air France, are at a loss.

As far as can be determined, the circumstances of one accident duplicate the other. Both occurred in the same stormy weather. Both ships were sweeping the Persian Gulf. Both ships were preparing to land on the air strips at Bahrain Island, 20 miles off the coast of Saudi Arabia. Both planes had raised the field by rain and had received permission to land. That was the last that was heard of either of them.

Mechanical failure in two big, four-engine planes flying over the same geographical spot seems a little far fetched. The theory of sabotage by pro-Red do-Chinese has been discounted. Bad weather might have done it. A closer investigation may show the cause.

Perhaps the failure can be traced on forces not connected with the plane. The island airfield is equipped with conventional radio beams but not with any of the landing approach aids that are so plentiful in this country.
It is possible that the radio beams were thrown out of calibration by some weather phenomenon to such an extent that the pilot flying down them flew his plane right into the ocean. Such misadventures have happened before.

In any event, there is a grim Persian puzzle facing Air France investigators. The eyes of the air world will be close on them.

MORE MONEY TO SPEND

Even allowing for the dwindling value of the dollar, the $600-$1,000 increase in personal incomes for April is a heartening sign of a healthy economy. It means that the people have that much more money to spend and that merchants may therefore expect a larger volume of sales.

The Department of Commerce attributes April's improved showing to an expansion of payrolls—at higher wages but more people at work. That likewise is an encouraging omen and will confound those so-called experts who have been predicting all along that there would soon be a marked increase in unemployment and a subsequent depression.

Quite properly the department of Commerce, in preparing its report, has ignored the payment of special insurance dividends to veterans of World War II. If these had been included the rise in incomes for April would have been close to $1,000,000,000. But insurance dividends, while adding to the money in circulation, are non-recurring items and as such cannot be counted.

Anyway, with national income now running at the rate of $213-$214,000,000,000 a year it is no wonder that the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia feels justified in declaring that "business barometers point to a very high, if not record level of activity."

Students being graduated from the State's high schools this year is lower than in past years. They credit it to a declining birth rate during the depression 17 and 18 years ago.

An expected 20,000 graduates will enter college in the fall, according to their estimates.
About 60,000 are expected to seek permanent employment.

Opportunities will vary by areas.
Officials said, with a poor outlook prevailing in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Schuylkill County, Greenc-burg and Johnstown. Each is a distress area in which unemployment runs to 12 per cent or more of the total labor force.

A bleak note was sounded for a number of other small areas in the hard and soft coal regions.
In other major areas, prospects will be more hopeful, researchers indicate, although throughout the State there prevails the problem of an increasing labor force without a similar gain in job openings.

State Employment analysts report the following conditions in a sampling of occupations:

Agriculture: Substantial number of opportunities for farmhands in seasonal field work and for year-round workers, particularly on dairy farms.

White collar jobs: Fairly good prospects, particularly for girls, in positions including general clerk, messenger, sales clerk, stenographer, typist, assistant bookkeeper and cashier.

Professional and technical: Opportunities considered below the last few years with more people seeking jobs such as draftsman, laboratory assistants, artists.

Unskilled factory work: Presents largest concentration of unemployment at the present time. Opportunities will be at a minimum.

Domestic employment: Household work probably will be available, as will laundry work.

Nursing: Plenty of opportunities for practical nurses and girls desiring to train as nurses. A wide field also for men to become medical orderlies and attendants at institutions.

Factory work for women: Most opportunities appear to be in apparel lines such as needle craft, sewing.

Building trades: Opportunities limited.

Mr. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
William Smith, when he received congratulations on his recent promotion to fireman first class.

day afternoon received a visit from her brother, Conrad Turner, Wynne-wood, and his fiancée, Miss Mary Marshall, West Chester.

probation when he became involved in an accident while operating his car after his license had been revoked.

The defendant, who was sentenced May 16, 1949, to pay a $200 fine on a drunken driving charge, was sentenced Dec. 13, 1949, for failure to submit identity at the scene of an accident and driving without a license.

For violation of his parole, he served two additional months in prison. His probation period extended from Dec. 11, 1949, to May 16, when his probation would have expired had he not got into trouble for the second motor vehicle offense.

Three New Members Join Chamber of Commerce

Routine business and committee reports consumed most of the meeting time of the Board of Directors of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce when members met at the home of President Clyde J. Waterman, last evening.

Joseph Sprando, president of the Bristol Playground Association, was given the floor to outline the plans and program of his organization for opening some of Bristol's public school grounds for a supervised summer playground program for the younger children of Bristol.

Three applications for membership in the Chamber of Commerce were approved. They included: Guillaume Aertsen, III, manager of the Bristol office of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania; Anthony Jardine, Public Welding & Iron Service, 414-20 Pond street; Nick Sabatini, contractor and builder, 1308 Wilson avenue.

A member of the Board, Percy G.
Ford, was appointed to represent the Chamber of Commerce in any program which the organization may follow in the observance of 1950 Pennsylvania Week.

Arthur Pilla, Sr., chairman of the Borough Entrance Committee, reported that an excellent start has been made on the planting of trees and shrubs along the Borough Dump at the western entrance to Bristol. The work will be resumed in the fall, according to Pilla.

Vase Given As Memorial At Father's Day Program

NEWPORTVILLE, June 20.— Father's Day was celebrated in Newportville Community Church—Presbyterian, during Sunday School hour on Sunday under direction of Mrs. Agnes Barclay. The Rev. Elwood T. Dyson made the opening prayer; Scripture was read by Mrs.
Paul Kramer, followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. H. Bogarde, Sr., and Mrs. Elwood T. Dyson.

The speaker of the morning was the Rev. Robert Fraser, blind evangelist, who told of the need of Christian fathers. All fathers present were invited to the chancel by Mrs. Barclay, and after they sang a hymn, each received a rose bouton-niere.

During worship services, C. Hurley White gave the message. The Rev. Mr. Dyson presented a gold vase in memory of his father, Thornton Dyson, who died in 1948.

1948, has been transferred to Langhorne from Bethlehem. Corporal Charles Jones, who has been in a supervisory position at the local barracks, will continue at Langhorne barracks.

MILK SUGGESTION

PHILADELPHIA, (INS) — A college professor has offered a four-point plan aimed at keeping milk at its best. Vladimir N. Krukavsky, professor of dairy industry at Cornell University, dropped the hints recently at a meeting of the American Chemical Society in Philadelphia. He suggested: 1. Keep milk away from the light. 2. If you must skim the cream off the top of the bottle, use the skim milk as soon as possible. 3. Don't collect cream from the top of several bottles because the mixture may cause all the cream to spoil. 4. Always finish an open bottle of milk before upcapping another bottle.

Gardens for Your Children

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE child who plants, cultivates and properly cares for a garden may gain valuable moral education therefrom. He gains most when he takes sole responsibility for it. It is wonderful when a child has a small garden plot at home and cares for it alone. By employing skill, we adults may be able to give him an effective suggestion or boost at those times when his urge to carry through can be stimulated best.

School gardens can be effective in this direction, because each child has a plot of his own and works on it while other children work on theirs. After school vacation starts, the real test often comes—will the child follow up with his school garden faithfully? His parents should see that he does. If positive suggestions, rewards, or even a bit of helping hand doesn't suffice, let there be requirements. Indeed, it may be a big loss to the child's character to begin a garden he does not faithfully see through to the end.

Homemaking Programs

The 4-H Clubs and other homemaking and agricultural programs are commendably sound.
The teacher-leader makes frequent visits to the home, seeing the youngster's project at its various stages. Besides, there usually is a reward ahead in the canned food and harvest of fruit and vegetables, in eggs, in poultry, or in livestock to be sold for money or to be placed on public exhibit at the county fair. Such a program is usually based on rewards. Some wise parents, especially on the farm, are able to set the stage so that the youngster carries through a home project on the basis of its being his very own.

Accepted Plan

Whether at two, eight, or fourteen, the more often the child carries through the accepted plan he has made, and finishes the thing he has set out to make or do, the better for his moral growth. Every time he gives up in the face of small discourages, he loses something. How strange it is that certain extremists in progressive education used to put such great value on stimulating the child to do whatever he happened to be most interested in at the moment. They almost seemed to think that the more things he chose to begin, whether he finished them or not, the better he was being educated.

They gave little or no thought to habits, or to the need to exert effort to overcome resistance.
Some character-building organizations still put great emphasis on having a child begin a project, yet show too little concern in having him carry it through. It seems to us they may not only fail then to promote the values they desire, but even may do the child moral harm in arousing an interest in him he does not pursue to its usual fruition.

In the home there may be times when we should forbid the child to begin a second enterprise before having finished the first. At any time, indeed, when we know the proposed undertaking is far beyond his ability to finish, we should persuade him against it or agree to help him.

★ NOT LARGE, YET SPACIOUS ★

AN OLD NEW England look gives this home traditional charm. Its attractive shuttered windows and the trellised entrance add to its hospitable appearance. The garage is attached to the house by a breezeway. Note the interesting design of the framework.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

A TOUCH of tradition makes this home attractive. There's an old New England look about the house, and yet it would be at home anywhere in the country.

Although not large, economical rectangular planning affords spaciousness downstairs and three bedrooms on the second floor. The shuttered windows and trellised entrance bespeak the hospitality that await visitors within.

A good-sized living room runs the width of the house. It has four windows that provide excellent summer ventilation and make for a bright, cheery room. Another feature is a natural fireplace.

The dining room, to the right of the entrance, opens into the kitchen. There's room here in the snack corner for a table and a few chairs. Off the kitchen are a powder room, clothes chute, storage closet and stairs to the cellar.

Upstairs there are three bedrooms. Each has two windows and ample closet facilities—there are five in all. The bathroom has its own towel storage unit and, like all the plumbing, is located in the rear of the house.

A garage is attached to the house by a breezeway. The house takes up 15,768 cubic feet; breezeway, 504 cubic feet, and garage, 2,508 cubic feet.

An information sheet giving sketches and diagrams, which will enable you to judge whether this house is for you, is available. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper for the name and address of the firm from which this sheet may be obtained. Ask for "The Beloit."

To arrive at a general estimate of the construction cost of this house, ascertain construction costs per cubic foot in your locality, then multiply this by the number of cubic feet given here. The result should be within 10 per cent either way of the cost.

ANDALUSIA

Tomorrow the Andalusia Parent-Teacher Association will conduct its annual picnic for members and their children on the Andalusia school grounds. The hours will be from 11 a. m. to three p. m. Each will provide his or her own dinner, and the association will furnish the ice cream and beverages. Chairman of the committee in charge is Mrs. Charles Henty. Games in variety are arranged, with prizes for winners.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Knoll, Jr., of Philadelphia, two weeks ago. Mrs. Knoll will be remembered as Miss Hazel Andrews, who formerly lived in this community.

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—When Henry Thompson of San Francisco heard the telephone ring in his home he moved so quickly he stumbled over the cord and broke his leg. When he finally got the receiver to his ear, a voice announced: "I wonder if I could take up a little of your time, I'm selling accident insurance."

THE FIRST FLOOR is not large, yet economical rectangular planning affords spaciousness. The living room runs the width of the house. There's a kitchen, dining room, powder room, and ample closet space.

FOUR CLOSETS upstairs and you'll find that there are more than enough for even the largest wardrobe. Each room has two windows.

Emphasis was again put on the importance of residents of Bristol and its environs observing closely the ten commandments for helping in mosquito control work. They are: Eliminate all standing water; cover rain barrels with mosquito proof screens; seal cesspools tightly; drain clogged roof gutters and flat roofs; cut up and take away old tires; keep wheelbarrows tilted; oil sewer inlets, cisterns and excavations weekly; change water in troughs, fountains or bird baths twice weekly; empty cans or other water holding receptacles; be sure that all your screens fit tightly and that screen mesh is not larger than 16 to the inch.

David Baker Is The Top Competitor for 'Modelers'

Top competitor for the Bristol Aeromodelers at the Garden State Aeromodels meet held Sunday at Millville, N. J., was David Baker, of Newportville. He won third place in the Class A Junior speed event with a speed of 88 1/5 miles per hour.

Considering the large amount of competition in this event and the fact that this was his first official competition, leader members of the Aeromodelers believe this to be quite an accomplishment. Baker is 14 years of age.

Other Aeromodelers tried hard but failed to place in any of the events. Hundreds of competitors from several states were on hand to compete and the weather was perfect. Dozens of free flight models soared out of sight and were lost, some attaining a duration of 30 minutes.

A record number of radio controlled models were on hand and put on a fine show of stunts, dive bombing and spot landings. Other model clubs of Bucks county were on hand to compete. The Doylestown Kiwanis Aero Club took an entire bus load of junior members to the meet.

The next model meet will be at Johnsville on July 9th. Every senior member of the Aeromodelers has been asked to attend this contest either as an official or as a competitor. Several have pledged their assistance to officiate.

Field Day To Cover Delaware Tributaries

NEWTOWN, June 20—A field day is planned by Bucks Co. Natural Science Association for Saturday, June 24th. Members will meet at the entrance to Bowman's Hill Wild Flower Preserve, Washington Crossing Park, at 10 a. m.

Wendell F. Oliver, Morrisville, will be leader. He will take the group over three tributaries of the Delaware River—the Cuttalossa, the Pannausung and Tobickon creeks.

Camp Ockanickon will again be visited. Lunch will be eaten at Stover State Park, where botany students will have a plant identification period.

The trip homeward will be through some of the most beautiful wooded areas.

The entire trip will be under 60 miles. It is planned to finish by four o'clock.

In case of rain, the field day will be cancelled.

Score John Thompson Pasture As Finest Seen

DOYLESTOWN, June 20—A pasture tour was made by about 40 Bucks County Holstein breeders, who scored each pasture and farm they visited in upper and middle Bucks County. The pasture of John Thompson & Sons, Newtown, was selected as being the best seen on the trip.

County Agent William F. Greenwalt, who said a good percentage of the pastures with ladino clover had been winter killed, pointed out that the "tourists" saw some pastures which came through the winter fairly well.

Frank Bamer, State College Extension agronomist, who accompanied the county agent and the breeders, spoke on grass mixtures to be used in pastures and suggested management procedures.

Pastures on the farms of William Tyson, near Dublin; Frank Goodyear, Gardenville; Charles Lowmes and sons; John Thompson and sons; and Hunsall Carter, Newtown, and Joseph O. Canby, near Langhorne, were visited.

Each member of the tour was asked by Extension Agronomist Bamer to evaluate the pastures visited and John Thompson's was chosen as the finest, emerging as the winner.

PIAA RAPS PUBLIC ON COACH CENSURE; ASKS "FAIR DEAL"

HARRISBURG, June 29—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association today called for "a fair deal for coaches" in the field of high school athletics.

In an editorial in "The Patriot," the PIAA's official publication, it was charged that "the public too frequently measures a high school coach's success by the relative length of the won and lost columns."

"This measuring stick has been applied irrespective of the amount or caliber of his material, or the physical facilities which may have been provided him," the PIAA newspaper said.

"If he wins games, and especially if he wins championships, he is feted and dined, as are also the members of his teams. Newspapers provide ample space and sports-casters extol his merits. This is only as it should be, and we hope such enthusiasm never diminishes."

"If, however, the coach should fail to measure up to expectations, as judged by these purely artificial standards, too often he becomes the recipient of all manner and kinds of criticism, in many instances manifestly unfair."

"His strategy was poor, his plays were outmoded, his substitutes were ill-advised; in short, he is generally branded as a failure as a coach with the inevitable results."

The Patriot said fans and critics "frequently fail to take into account the fact that a coach, after all, possesses those inherent qualities which make him a good teacher, a good leader, and what is of greater importance—a wholesome influence among the young people entrusted to his charge."

The newspaper added: "Where conditions such as the above exist, or even approach that degree, it is well for all of us to give consideration to a fair deal for coaches."

The PIAA publication warned that high schools in Pennsylvania must adopt an "educational philosophy" that will guarantee a fair deal to the athletic coaches of the state.

SPORT NOTES

The latest averages released by the Trenton Industrial League show that "Lou" Mari, third-sacker for St. Ann's, is leading the batters with a .582 mark. Bert Barbeta, leftfielder for the "Saints" and runner-up of last season, is in second place with a .395 average. L. Werner and Shispi, of Micharski's, are next on the list.

"Bill" Moll and Joe Dominick, stars of football and baseball at Bristol High for the past two years, have been accepted at Syracuse. Dominick has also been asked by a Phillies' scout to report to Shibe

It's a known fact that LeRoy Greenlee, Bristol High's star miler, runs every school day from the high school to his home in Emille. During the track season, he practices several miles daily on the cinder path before he begins his journey home.

Ralph Kelly, of Cornwells

Heights, piloted his cruiser, Cla-verne, to second place in the Wisconsin Yacht Club regatta, Sunday. The winner, Paul McDowell, of Quaker City YC, beat Kelly by three seconds of corrected time in the consistency race.

"Mel" Locke, of the Bristol Yacht Club, finished first in the duster class sailboat races at Camden, Saturday. Locke's "Lil" did the course in 12:40.
